

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

A BOOK of reference should not require much preface or explanation, but a few words of introduction may be permitted, in which to lay before the reader the scope of the work and its arrangement.

In the Bibliography of Matthew Arnold especial interest attaches to the Poetical Works. In the successive editions of the collected volumes the changes made are very confusing; some poems are omitted, new ones are introduced, and the titles of others are altered. Poems omitted from several editions reappear in later volumes, while some are reprinted only in fragments. In the FIRST SECTION of the Bibliography—treating of the POETICAL WRITINGS—all these differences are noted; and, at the end of the book, a Synoptical Index is given, by which the course of any one Poem through the successive editions may be traced, or the contents of the different volumes compared.

When preparing his Poems for a new edition, Mr. Arnold frequently took the opportunity of revising the text; these emendations form an interesting study, but it has not been deemed advisable to take any note of them here.

The SECOND DIVISION of the Bibliography is taken up by the PROSE WRITINGS. The principal feature of this part is the list of Contributions to Periodical Publications. The compilation of this list has necessitated a search through many series of magazines ranging over a long period. It will be seen from it that the Text of the majority of the Prose Works had previously appeared as magazine articles. The more important of the alterations made in the reprints of the prose writings are alluded to in this division.

THE CRITICISMS AND REVIEWS of Matthew Arnold's writings are arranged in the THIRD PART of the Bibliography. There are over Three hundred items in this division, selected mainly from the leading periodicals of the last forty years.

It has been found convenient to include with the magazine and press articles the few books which are devoted, either entirely or in part, to the consideration of Matthew Arnold's writings. The arrangement of this division, as of the other parts of the Bibliography, is, on the whole, chronological. This arrangement permits most of the Reviews treating of the same subject to be recorded in proximity.

In the Addenda are recorded a few items of interest, notably the discovery of a second copy of Alaric at Rome.

The Table of Contents serves the purpose of an Index, and from it the general scheme of the book may be seen.

In preparing this Bibliography the Compiler has personally inspected every book, magazine, or newspaper described, with the exception of three or four editions of minor importance. In this he has been much helped by possessing an almost complete collection of Matthew Arnold's Works. The British Museum and the Guildhall Library have been extensively used for reference to Periodicals, Parliamentary Reports, &c. The Compiler is also indebted to the publishers of Mr. Arnold's books, and to others, for much valuable information.

Every care has been taken to make the Bibliography accurate and, as far as possible, complete. The Compiler will be glad to receive notice of any omission or correction.
